

Worldwide Schooling Path

The Philosophy of Freedom Annual Training

"If you study something like this with inner participation, which has entered the world with all its imperfections – I don't want to defend my "Philosophy of Freedom" – if you let something like this affect you and feel what this pure thinking is, you feel that a new inner human being is born in you, one who can unfold will development out of the spirit".

The "Philosophy of Freedom Annual Training" has existed for four years, and last year it became international. In the coming cycle – which begins on the 24th of September – it will be offered in German, English, Russian, Chinese, Spanish and Czech.

What began four years ago as an individual impulse has now grown into a worldwide project: The "Philosophy of Freedom Annual Training" offers an intensive seven-month schooling path through Rudolf Steiner's early work, The Philosophy of Freedom. At the center is a thinking-meditative occupation with the contents and impulses of this book – completely in the sense of R. Steiner's statement: "I do not teach, I tell what I have experienced myself."

At the beginning of the course, the participants receive two boxes with about 600 thought-cards from The Philosophy of Freedom and make the commitment to work with them for a quarter of an hour every day. On the one hand, this path is very individual; on the other hand, we walk it together in a large worldwide community. A variety of support services accompany it: The cards, weekly letters, exchange opportunities with tandem partners and in regional groups, monthly webinars with motivating lectures, meeting spaces and suggestions for individual practice, an app, a login area, and personal support.

In the last cycle, 356 people from 17 countries participated in four languages. The upcoming cycle starts on the 24th of September and will be offered in six languages. The cards can be obtained bilingually – original (German) + one's own language – the webinars will be translated in real time, the letters will be translated, and there will be the possibility for personal exchange in break-out language rooms. The participants bring with them a wide variety of previous experience – some are reading Steiner for the first time, others have been living with The Philosophy of Freedom for many years. And all of them experience the common work as a great enrichment.

We are an independent initiative and organized as a non-profit organization (Leben im Denken e.V.). As well as new participants, we welcome support for the dissemination and financing of our project, and contributors to our growing volunteer circle of people of all ages.
